Social Emotional Learning

Working with your student, reflect on their unique needs, along with their unique abilities, talents, and interests. You may want to create a T-chart with "Needs" on one side and "Abilities" on the other. What makes your student special? How are their needs different from their peers and the rest of the family? What abilities or talents do they have that others do not?

- Finally, reflect with your student on how these unique needs/abilities could be used in service to the greater good. In your opinion, what special gifts can you both offer to make the world a better place? How can you go about offering these gifts?
